Russian Jet Liner Heads Toward U.S.

Red Craft Leaves London, Slated To Arrive Late Today

LONDON (U-P)—A big Russian jet liner roared out of London airport today for the first flight to the United States by a Soviet civilian plane.

The twin-jet TU104 flew here from Moscow, stopped 2 hours and 25 minutes for refueling, then took off for Keflavik, Iceland.

From Keflavik it will fly to Gander, Nfld., and then on to McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey. It will be the first Russian plane to land in the United States in 20 years.

Last Was In 1937

The 5,370-mile Moscow-to-McGuire flight was expected to take about 18 hours total flying time.

The last Russian aircraft to visit the United States—a military plane in 1937—made a 6,200-mile flight in 62 hours, flying over the North Pole.

There were conflicting reports of the number of persons aboard the TU104. A Moscow radio broadcast said 60 passengers boarded the plane but a news dispatch from the Soviet capital said there were 19 and a crew of 12, including three Britons. A Transport Ministry official at London Airport said the plane carried 36 passengers.

Some passengers stayed aboard during the refueling stop in London, making an accurate count difficult. Most of those aboard were translators and minor officials of the Soviet delegation to the U. N. General Assembly. The McGuire base is about 60 miles from the site of U. N. headquarters in New York City.

The TU104 was expected at the New Jersey air base early tonight.

At Gander, an American pilot and radio operator will be put aboard to guide the liner after it enters American air space. It is 12 crewmen boarding the plane in London included three British Royal Air Force officers. It was their job to help navigate to London and Newfoundland.

Red Protest Rebutted

The Soviet government raised a last-minute objection to landing at McGuire yesterday, but the United States refused to change the flight plan.

Russian Embassy officials in Washington complained that McGuire was 60 miles from New York, the destination of the passengers, and asked permission to land at Idlewild Airport, the usual arrival point for aircraft from overseas. Idlewild is 10 miles on the other side of U. N. headquarters.

The State Department did say the second jet liner could land at Idlewild if it passed a "noise level" test showing the craft's engines did not create an undue disturbance.

Jet airliners normally are barred from using nearly all American commercial airfields, officially because of the noise the jet engines make and the need for extra long runways.

U. S. Payroll Sets Record

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) said today that the federal government's civilian payroll exceeded 11 billion dollars last year for the first time.

Byrd, as chairman of the Joint Committee on Reduction of Non-essential Federal Expenditures, said the total for the year ended June 30 was $11,090,474,000. This compared with slightly over 10½ billion in the previous fiscal year and about 9½ billion each for the two preceding 12-month periods.

'Big Bill' Lias Must Shell Out $4.5 Millions

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Sen. Williams (R-De.) has commended government officials for the results achieved after public attention was focused on this case.

The government has filed claims for nearly three million dollars in delinquent taxes and penalties against Lias and his associates for the period 1942-48. Lias was found innocent of charges of frauding the government of one million dollars in income taxes after a month's trial at Fairmont, W. Va., in summer of 1949.

Dope Pusher Ring Broken, Scores Held

NEW YORK (U-P)—A giant international narcotics smuggling and distribution ring was reported smashed today with the opening of a federal court case of a sealed indictment naming 46 defendants and 16 co-conspirators.

A roundup of scores of persons in the New York City area already had been reported.

Head of the gigantic operation was Harry Stronberg, 54, who was the ring's "over-all director" for more than 25 years, according to a government spokesman.

The dope syndicate imported heroin, cocaine and opium from France and other countries, and at least one occasion it smuggled in about 50 pounds of pure heroin valued on the illicit market at $3,500,000, according to U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams.

The indictment was returned Aug. 28, sealed and opened today in the chambers of U. S. Dist. Judge Edward Weinfeld.

The ring used many "underhanded" methods in its operations and an untold number of customs inspectors were "corrupted" by the smuggling of narcotics through New York, Williams declared.

Those inspectors have since been discharged, he added. They were not identified.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (U-P)—The 51 contestants vying for the Miss America 1958 title take part today, tomorrow and Friday in preliminary swim suit, evening gown and talent competition.

The new Miss America will be chosen before a nationwide television audience Saturday from girls representing 45 states, Canada, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, New York City, Chicago and Washington, D. C.

The contest formally got under way last night with a dazzling parade of the contestants down this resort community's famed boardwalk.

Burglars Loot Church Safes

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Police reported that burglars broke into the office of the First Baptist Church yesterday and stole $2,633 from two safes.

The Rev. Dr. Edward R. Pruden, pastor, said that the loot included a $10 bill autographed by former President Harry S. Truman, who often attended the church.

Farm Camp Abuse Claim Probe Opens

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (U-P)—A committee of key members of Gov. Averell Harriman's Cabinet today opens a full-scale investigation of conditions in New York state migrant camps.

They will have at their disposal a tape-recorded report of a 37-year-old Georgia Negro whose claims of mistreatment in a New York camp stirred a storm.

Harriman, who was expected to attend part of the session, ordered the inquiry. The Interdepartmental Committee on Farm and Food Processing Labor is conducting it.

The Georgia man, James H. Brunson of Augusta, returned North yesterday. He told news men he had come to New York originally not to earn money but "to learn about conditions."

He reiterated that workers lived under unsanitary conditions, that he had been held in virtual peonage, that young unmarried women were forced into sexual relations and that there was much drinking and gambling in the camp near Hannibal, in Oswego County.

Jets Collide Above Beach

DOVER, Del. (U-P)—Two twin-engine F89 Scorpion jet fighters collided over Delaware Bay today and the Air Force said one man was missing and three parachuted to safety.

Capt. James Bouchard, public information officer of Dover Air Force Base, said the collision occurred at 9:35 a. m. (EDT) shortly after take off about one mile off Pickering Beach, which is three miles east of the air base.

Bouchard said three crewmen parachuted to safety and the fourth was missing.

Pay TV Gets First Run As Films Shown

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (U-P)—Some 200 television set owners here changed channels yesterday and relaxed to enjoy a first run movie.

It was the debut of "Telemovies"—by which current movies are piped into homes through a coaxial cable for a charge of $9.50 a month.

Two channels are being used by Video Independent Theaters, Inc., of Oklahoma City to show the movies. Yesterday's showings were "Pajama Game" and "Mississippi Gambler."

The shows ran from 1 p. m. to midnight.

There were mixed reactions on the "Telemovies"—or "TM" as Video calls it.

A mother of two children, Mrs. Tom R. Weaver, said she was only able to see one other movie the past year because of the trouble of hiring a baby-sitter.

W. J. (Doc) Hayes liked the venture because there were no commercials.

But R. B. Coleman, who has five children, didn't subscribe to the service. He declared: "When they want to see movies, I like to get them out of my hair."

Video officials reported, however, that the reaction was generally good.

Soviet Warships Seen Off Britain

DOVER, England (U-P)—Two Russian ships—presumably a Yugoslav-bound cruiser and destroyer—steamed westward through the English Channel today.

Admiralty lookouts reported the movement of the vessels, saying they were about four miles off Dover.

The Russians announced this week that a cruiser and a mine-laying destroyer were en route to Yugoslavia on a goodwill visit.

Reds Reject Plan

LONDON (U-P)—Russia made it plain again at the U. N. disarmament conference today that the West's package plan for ending the world arms race is unacceptable.

The flight, to Quonset Point Naval Air Station across Narragansett Bay from Newport, was expected to take about 90 minutes.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower will occupy a tree-shaded, 12-room, white stucco house which the new commander of the base, Rear Adm. Henry Cromelin, is yielding to the commander in chief.

There has been no official word on how long they will stay. If the weather is good, they may remain until close to the scheduled mid-October visit to Washington of Britain's Queen Elizabeth.

The President does plan to make some computer flights from Newport for business conferences in Washington.

Crowd Yells At Teenager Near School

U. S. Judge Orders Integration, Guard Act Ignores Decree

By The Associated Press

National Guardsmen mustered by Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas forcibly prevented integration at the Little Rock Central High School today while a crowd of white persons shouted "nigger go back where you belong."

The federal-state test of powers reached its climax as the guardsmen, 200 strong, turned back repeatedly a teen-age Negro girl who tried to enter the building.

As she walked along the line of troopers she tried time and again to work her way through the close-knit formation. At each instance a soldier stepped forward to bar her path.

Crowd Backs Guardsmen

A crowd of some 150 whites yelled backing and encouragement for the guardsmen. They gathered around the girl, who refused to answer newsmen's questions, but made no attempt to harm her.

A federal judge last night ordered the Little Rock school officials to proceed with integration.

Later in the morning eight other Negroes tried to enter the school but were barred by the soldiers. Maj. Gen. Sherman T. Clinger, Arkansas adjutant general, said the all-white guardsmen acted on the governor's orders.

Clinger told reporters Faubus "has declared Central High off limits to Negroes."

A federal judge last night ordered school officials at Little Rock to proceed with integration of a high school surrounded by National Guardsmen.

Gov. Faubus, who called out the guardsmen, said his next order to them is a military secret. He called the situation "a legal checker game" but gave no indication whether he will back down on his stand to keep Central High School segregated.

Supt. Virgil Blossom said the school would be open to Negroes today.

Federal Judge Ronald Davies said he was taking at face value Faubus' statement that the 250 guardsmen were called out to keep peace and order and not as segregationists or integrationists.

After a five-minute hearing he ordered the board to proceed. He issued his first integration order Friday.

President Eisenhower said at Washington that Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell is looking into the situation.

Vanderbilt Weds Young Secretary, It's Bride No. 6

RENO, Nev. (U-P)—Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., 39-year-old son of the railroad family, yesterday married Ann Needham, 25. His sixth bride had been his secretary.

Nevada Gov. and Mrs. Charles Russell and Sen. George W. Malone (R-Nev.) were among those attending the ceremony at the home of Vanderbilt's attorney, John Sinai.

Vanderbilt, socialite and lecturer, said of the marriage, "This time is the last." Previous brides, described by him as "five of the world's most beautiful women," were Patricia Murphy Wallace, Rachael Littleton, Mary Weir Logan, Helen Varner Anderson and Maria Feliza Pablos.

Ike, Mamie Leave Capital For Rhode Island Vacation

WASHINGTON (U-P)—President, Mrs. Eisenhower, vacationing at Newport, R. I., took off today.

Accompanying them to the airport were three of their four grandchildren, David, Barbara, Anne and Susan.

Eisenhower was logged out in brown, from hat to shoes, except for a white shirt. Mrs. Eisenhower, still looking a bit peaked after an operation and stay in the hospital, was wearing a white figured black suit with black and white accessories.

The flight, to Quonset Point Naval Air Station across Narragansett Bay from Newport, was expected to take about 90 minutes.

Judge Voids Four Charges In Vice Case

Portland Mayor, Three Others Had Faced Indictment

PORTLAND, Ore. (U-P)—The state gave up four more conspiracy charges in the Portland vice investigation yesterday.

Mayor Terry Schrunk, former Dist. Atty. William Langley, Teamsters Union official Clyde Crosby and Sheriff's Deputy George Minelli were freed of charges they conspired to obtain wiretaps.

The indictments had accused them of plotting illegally to get hold of tape recordings seized in a raid by sheriff's deputies on the home of Raymond Clark last year. Schrunk then was sheriff.

The recordings were used as evidence when Clark and his employer, gambler Big Jim Elkins, were convicted in federal court last spring of wiretapping.

A State Circuit Court judge dismissed the charges on motion of the state attorney general, Robert Thornton, who said the facts in the indictments did not constitute a crime. Thornton earlier said he opposed the indictments, but a grand jury returned them anyway.

An identical indictment against Oregon Journal reporter Brad Williams was dismissed earlier when his attorney attacked it in court.

Schrunk and Crosby also have been acquitted in vice trials.

Schrunk was freed of a perjury charge and Crosby of an accusation he conspired to accept a bribe while a member of a city commission.

Penalty Held Up For Ronnie, Son Of Comedy Pair

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (U-P)—The 22-year-old son of George Burns and Gracie Allen has been fined $50 and sentenced to spend a week end in jail for speeding. But the sentence has been vacated, temporarily.

Ronnie Burns' attorney asked that the delay be granted pending a probation report. Probation hearing and sentence was set for Sept. 24.

Young Burns was haled into Beverly Hills Municipal Court yesterday on a charge that he sped 85 m.p.h. in a 25 m.p.h. zone.

New York Bus Brawl Puts Six Persons In Jail Cells

NEW YORK (U-P)—A bat-swinging, rock-throwing brawl on a Manhattan bus landed two women and four men in police cells today on a variety of charges.

When the fight was over, a baseball bat, a rawhide leather mallet, a rubber hose filled with sand and taped at both ends, a knife and 10 large rocks were found in and around the battered bus. The bus windows were shattered by a rock barrage.

Two men were taken to a hospital—one of them a peace-maker who is in critical condition with a skull injury.

Nine frightened passengers hurried for safety through a rear window of the bus as the battle raged last night.

The melee started as an argument between two women on a street last night, led to a fist fight between the husbands of two women and eventually developed into a full-scale brawl on the bus, police said.

The victim critically injured was Gene Lowe, 24, who has been going to school to improve his eligibility rating for appointment to the police force.

Refute 'Confidential' Screen Star, Singer Say Stories Untrue

LOS ANGELES (U-P)—Glamorous actress Maureen O'Hara and sultry singer Dorothy Dandridge have declared on the witness stand that Confidential magazine stories involving them in theater and woodland love-making episodes were untrue.

The two stars put glitter into the criminal libel trial of the magazine yesterday when, their eyes flashing angrily, they snapped their denials while testifying for the prosecution.

They were the first, and perhaps the last, celebrities to appear in the trial of Confidential and Whisper magazines and their Hollywood agents Fred and Marjorie Meade. The prosecution expects to complete its rebuttal testimony today.

Miss O'Hara testified that the story entitled "When Maureen O'Hara Cuddled in Row 33" was completely false.

Outside the courtroom she told newsmen that she has not had an offer of work since the article appeared and that she feels the story is to blame. She has sued Confidential for five million dollars.

The red-haired Miss O'Hara came to court attired in a blue and white striped dress and white stockings. While on the witness stand she told the court that she was in Grauman's Chinese Theater in Hollywood only twice during 1953 and 1954, both times to attend premieres with her brothers.

Those years include the disputed periods in which, defense witnesses have testified, Miss O'Hara was seen in a rear row of the theater, embracing passionately with a Latin man.

Miss Dandridge, Negro singer and actress, said a story entitled "That Dorothy Dandridge Did in the Woods" was "absolutely not true." She testified she did not walk or make love in the woods with white band leader Daniel Terry while playing an engagement at Lake Tahoe, on the California-Nevada border, seven years ago.

Plane Plunges Into Oil Tank

DANBURY, Tex. (U-P)—A B-56 jet bomber from Hurlburt Field in Florida crashed into an oil tank near Danbury last night, setting off a fire visible for miles.

The three crewmen parachuted before the crash. All three were injured, one critically, when they ejected themselves after the plane developed engine trouble.

Officials at Ellington Air Force Base at nearby Houston identified the crewmen as Capt. Arthur J. Manzo, 30; 1st Lt. David E. Moore, 25; and Sgt. Albert I. Newland, 26.

Speedy Liner Arouses British Town Protest

NETLEY, England (U-P)—The Parish Council is going to ask the world's fastest liner—the United States—to take it a little slower in these parts.

The Council has had complaints that the liner, passing Netley on its way in and out of Southampton, is throwing up a high wash on the town's pleasure beach.

Jet Crashes Two Homes But People Are 'Lucky'

ST. LOUIS — Almost any other Tuesday at 5 p. m., the Charles Schneiders and Raymond Meyers would have been at home. Yesterday a Navy jet fighter smashed into their homes at that hour in suburban Berkeley, leaving them in charred ruins.

The pilot, Lt. John R. Renshaw, Centerville, Md., appeared to be shooting for an open space a block west of the Meyer home.

Instead his burning plane hit what may have been the only two unoccupied homes in the area. Renshaw was killed.

Schneider, operator of a home improvement firm, said his wife Ruth would be busy getting supper almost any other Tuesday. Their children, Linda, 8, Charles, 5, and Richard, 3½ months, would be at home.

But it was the first day of school and his wife had picked out the children's best clothes. She told her husband at his office: "I think when the kids come home, they'll be all dressed up so I think we'll go over to mother's. You can pick us up there."

They were at the home of Mrs. Schneider's mother Mrs. Lorena Stevens, in suburban Jennings when the plane ripped through the Meyer home and into their six-room frame house, leaving only a few upright timbers and four drawers of untouched clothing in a scorched dresser. Schneider was still at his office.

Almost any other Tuesday, Raymond Meyer would be in the shower bathing after a day on a construction job.

But yesterday he was kept 10 minutes overtime. He made up a few minutes en route to pick up his wife at work. He made up a few more minutes on the home stretch.

They were just two blocks away when the plane hit.

Harry Fields, a neighbor, said the Meyers' house "just disappeared."

"By the time I could get to the door, which was four or five seconds, the second house was in flames," he said.

The plane apparently developed trouble immediately after takeoff from Lambert-St. Louis Airport a mile from Berkeley, and was on fire before the crash.

Lt. Renshaw, stationed at the Naval Air Test Center at Patuxent-River, Md., had made the trip here to pick up some test equipment.

Hike In Liquor Will Pay Bonus For W. Va. Vets

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — Liquor Commissioner E. Gaujot Bias announced that an increase in liquor prices will bring in about $2,300,000 per year—more than enough to finance bonds for the Korean veterans bonus.

Bias said the State would need an estimated $1,800,000 a year for the bonds.

Basing his estimate of the $2,300,000 figure on sales of last July, ordinarily an off-month for his department, Bias said his department made $727,909 net profit. He added that the July figure, the first month for increased prices, was $191,396 more than last year's net profit of $536,513 for the same month.

One Negro pupil planned to enroll in each of four white schools at Charlotte today.

One Negro is to enter a white school at Winston-Salem, N.C. tomorrow.

Hecklers Dispersed

Gov. Luther Hodges, in a radio-TV address last night, neither approved nor disapproved of the steps taken at Charlotte, Greensboro and Winston-Salem. He said, however, that he is convinced "any substantial mixing of the races in our schools would result in the destruction of the public school system."

Police dispersed about a dozen hecklers, mostly youths, who jeered the Negro students at Greensboro.

At Durham, the Board of Education unanimously rejected appeals by parents of nine Negro students for reassignment to the nearest nonsegregated school in their area.

Seventeen Negro pupils were ready to begin integrated classes today at Sturgis, Ky. W. W. Waller, president of the Union County Citizens Council, said the council is prepared to boycott Sturgis High if Negroes are admitted. The Negroes were enrolled yesterday while a hoisterous crowd of about 250 persons milled about outside. Beer cans were thrown toward the school, a few pebbles sailed through the air and firecrackers were set off.

Department of Justice officials indicated in Washington that no action would be taken at Little Rock until all facts are in hand.

Department officials noted several possible courses of action: high government officials may confer with Faubus and Davis with an idea of planning for peaceful integration; the judge may bring about a trial for contempt of court; or the federal government may bring action to rule anti-integration laws in Arkansas unconstitutional.

At Clinton, Tenn., where violence accompanied integration last year, seven Negroes enrolled with about 800 white pupils.

A Negro at Houston, Tex., was turned away when he sought to register his 7-year-old daughter in a white elementary school a block from his home. He said the nearest Negro school is about 25 blocks distant.

Elsewhere on the integration front, four of the six leading hotels at Louisville, Ky., opened their doors for the first time to Negroes attending the National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., Inc.

A Negro told Birmingham, Ala., police he was severely beaten and sexually mutilated by a group of unmasked white men. He said they told him "This is what will happen if Negroes try to integrate schools."

Race Hatred Peril Cited By McKeldin

DETROIT — Maryland's Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin said last night that all minority groups owe something to such dictators as Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin because "they showed the world the horrible end to which race prejudice and race hatred inevitably leads."

McKeldin spoke at the 1957 convention of the National Urban League, an inter-racial group aimed at eradicating economic and cultural inequities.

The Maryland governor told his predominantly Negro audience:

"The supreme great asset of any country is its people, and when part of the people are forcibly prevented from making the best possible use of their talents and energies, the total assets of the country are reduced by just so much."

Long a spokesman for minority groups, McKeldin said he has appointed more members of the Negro race to public office in his seven years as governor than any of his predecessors. But he denied that he created opportunities for the minority group.

Fall Weather Hits Middle West States

By The Associated Press

A touch of autumn weather chilled the northern Midwest and cooler air spread across the northeast quarter of the country today.

As the cool Canadian air moved into the Northeast, temperatures dropped into the 60s in most areas from Kansas through the Ohio Valley to the Atlantic Coast and northward through New England.

Light rain fell in scattered areas along the Appalachians.

Lower temperatures and scattered light showers were reported from the Dakotas through most of the Great Lakes region.

Thunderstorms rumbled across areas in Texas, Oklahoma and eastern Colorado during the night.

Most severe storm was reported at Eldorado, Tex., which was lashed by winds of 75 m.p.h. and heavy rain. The city was drenched with nearly 3 inches of rain in one hour.

Greyhound Bus Crashes Truck, Eight Are Hurt

BAKER, Ore. — A Greyhound bus plowed into the rear of a truck near here yesterday, injuring the bus driver and seven passengers.

The most seriously hurt was the driver, Don Briscoe, about 50, Boise. He suffered two broken legs and undetermined internal injuries.

State police said several vehicles had stopped on U.S. 30, five miles northwest of Baker, for a road construction project. Police said witnesses told them dust from a road grader apparently prevented the bus driver from seeing the stopped vehicles until too late.

Solon Sees Eisenhower Appearing Before U. N.

By ERNEST R. VACCARO

WASHINGTON — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said today there is a growing possibility President Eisenhower may make a personal appearance before the United Nations General Assembly to dramatize Western disarmament proposals.

Humphrey, chairman of the Senate Disarmament subcommittee, said his group has urged unanimously that the United States carry its disarmament proposals before the U.N. He said the State Department favors such a course. The regular Assembly meeting starts Sept. 17.

"But some of us on the committee feel that a more effective case can be made out if President Eisenhower himself lays it out before this court of world opinion with all his international prestige as a man of peace," Humphrey said in an interview.

"I believe such a step by the President is a growing possibility," Humphrey advanced his view as the four Western powers — the United States, Britain, France and Canada — agreed to continue the London negotiations with Russia.

as long as there is a possibility the Soviets may show serious intention to help end the arms race. But it was believed that the talks being carried on by a five-member U.N. Disarmament subcommittee are in their last week. The United States has proposed an 11-point disarmament package, including a two-year suspension of nuclear tests, halt in production of materials for nuclear weapons, a first-stage reduction of conventional forces and arms, and a system of aerial-ground inspection. Eisenhower indicated at his news conference yesterday that the United States has about exhausted its planned steps for trying to get an early agreement from Russia. Eisenhower said the next move is up to Russia.

SAC To Begin Search For Radioactive Debris

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Strategic Air Command has been ordered to search the stratosphere regularly for radioactivity. A Defense Department announcement said today the command's high flying aircraft would start taking samplings of radioactive debris this fall. The research program will be carried on for at least two years. Its announced purpose is to determine the quality of atomic weapon debris distributed in the stratosphere (about 35,000 feet), the rate of release to the lower atmosphere and the way in which radioactive particles fall or drift in various parts of the world. A good deal of information on Russian testing of atomic weapons has been obtained by analysis of air samples. Up to now this work has been done by the Atomic Energy Commission, using stratospheric balloons, and by intermittent Air Force and Navy flights. The new series of tests is expected to help decide the scientific controversy over the danger of current radioactive fallout to human beings. Some quarters hold the fallout from present atomic testing is a definite hazard to humans; others say it isn't. Samples of the stratosphere collected by the Strategic Air Command's crews will be turned over to the Armed Forces Special Weapons Project for analysis. The Defense Department designated Laughlin Air Force Base at Del Rio, Tex., as the first site from which high altitude sampling will be conducted. It was indicated the bulk of the information gathered will be kept secret. But the Pentagon said results of samplings which "bear no military classification" will be announced from time to time. The AEC has been releasing balloons to altitudes ranging from 50,000 to 90,000 feet from Minneapolis, San Angelo, Tex., and the Panama Canal Zone. This work will continue.

Council Drops Plans For Building

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP)—The building to hold the police department, people's court and government offices necessary for the new county government was dropped yesterday by the Montgomery County Council. The council voted to drop its $205,870 option on a site for a new county office building in Silver Spring. It authorized a survey of ways to use the present building at Colesville Rd. and Georgia Ave., pressed at a public hearing last month. County Public Works Director Mason A. Butcher reported the bids will be opened Sept. 13 for paving a stretch of Montrose Rd. which will link new Route 240 with Wisconsin Ave. south of Rockville. Butcher said the project, to cost about $200,000, should be completed in December.

America Gropes In Midst Of Confusion

WASHINGTON — Our poets, from one generation to another, speak of us as "America is dreams" and "America is hopes."

Just now America seems to be groping, which does not necessarily mean that America is groping, but it is a confused groping, or, in another way, groping to get out of confusion.

This is evident if we look about at what is happening here and there. In New York, for example, evangelist Billy Graham is closing a three-and-a-half months crusade in which, at one meeting after another in Madison Square Garden, nearly two million persons have been groping for something to hold on to in a confused world.

IN LONDON our representatives, carrying our highest aspirations, have been groping for weeks and months with representatives of other nations, including Soviet Russia, to arrive at some formula for curbing the new man-made monsters of destruction embodied in atomic bombs and hydrogen bombs and missiles that can leap the oceans. We still grope for disarmament.

Here in Washington the Senate of the United States finally has approved a civil rights bill, overcoming a Southern blockade that had held since Reconstruction days. That represents groping for an ideal never realized, despite all our brave words about liberty and equality.

WHAT WE DID, through our Congress, in the civil rights bill was merely to re-affirm the 15th Amendment, 87 years after it originally became a part of our Constitution.

That says simply, in Section

One, that "the right of citizens to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude" and, in Section Two, that "the Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."

Now we have legislation. Timidly we groped about to make this start. Now we must grope about through the wilderness of Southern customs, manners and obstacles to try to make the ballot box open to all, as we have been groping, so far with only very little success, to open the public schools to all.

DURING THE protracted debate on the civil rights bill, we heard once again much about State rights, a phrase used so often to confuse. That issue was raised, too, in another important matter — one of the most important, since it affects education.

This was the bill to provide money from our common treasury to help build sorely needed schoolhouses. For the second time, the House of Representatives groped around the mazes of various formulas for distributing federal aid, and, in the end, killed the bill. Southern State Righters joined with conservative Republicans, who are against such federal aid, to throw the bill out of the House.

Here party lines were confused — but that is nothing new. We have been groping around in that morass for a long time, as we still are.

The President of the United States, who has been trying to give what he calls a "modern" aspect to his adopted political party, finds himself at the head of a party that cannot decide what it wants to be, with evidence that the arch-conservative elements, which he defeated in the 1952 convention to win his nomination, once more are moving into the ascendancy.

THIS confusion was exhibited for all to see in Wisconsin, where a divided Republican party was routed in a special election for the Senate seat left vacant by Senator Joe McCarthy's death. Democrats were able to capitalize upon that confusion and division to elect a Senator from that state for the first time in 25 years.

Just now our groping is evident most dramatically, because of the high stakes, in our foreign policy — in which the leadership of our nation is under a severe test. Our President and our people want peace, but the people seem confused and obviously weary of the long road to it.

Judging from what happened in Congress, the apparent growing antagonism among our people toward the foreign aid or mutual security program was more intense than ever. That program's purpose, as it was when created originally in the Truman administration, is to keep our Free World allies healthy and solvent, and to furnish them weapons for a first line of defense for us around the perimeter of the free world. The program was threatened in this last session as never before.

Confused, indeed, is the picture thing but continue our groping — but to the poets' conception of the outlook. We can do no dreams and hopes, we might add our own prosaic one; America also is patience and courage and hard work and eternal vigilance.

Glancing Sideways

LAREDO, Texas—One of the things of many in Texas is that you always get a warm reception in August. It was in the high 90's here when we crossed the border. Last year we crossed at McAllen, Reynosa and were in U. S. Customs for two hours while they went through and assayed everything but our teeth and their fillings.

This year the four of us made a small bet on time: I guessed we would be another two hours while they did everything but take out the spark plugs to see if we were concealing gems, gold or narcotics. We were exactly 41 minutes and it was wonderful.

A COURTEOUS, relaxed gentleman told us where to park and said he was sorry but we would have to take everything out of the car. We did—and it covered eighteen feet of the Customs' office table. He asked what jewelry silver or unset stones we had and if we had receipts for them. We told him and showed the receipts.

He checked three works of art, giving us his opinion that two of them were exceptional by taste standards and he had no idea of their probable worth as works of art. We couldn't help, either, since two were gifts.

He looked at luggage containing clothes and only clothes, rifled a shirt or two, lifted one blouse and nodded. He looked briskly at glassware and three baskets, made some notations, and nodded.

"Okay, you're on your way," he said.

Of the 41 minutes better than 25 of them were passed in unloading and loading.

WE DROVE into Laredo for lunch and I'll tell you something about Laredo: it bears no melancholy relationship to that deathless Western cowboy song: "The Streets of Laredo." Even at 94 degrees it is a bustling, modern, alert city.

We had lunch, after checking into an air-conditioned motel and after chugging the young ones into a swimming pool to simmer down.

At the next table, an American woman was furious because the men at Customs had done their jobs. "What kind of people are they?" she stormed. "Do I look like a woman who would smuggle narcotics or gold? Can't they tell by looking at a person?"

WELL, NO, lady, they can't. Narcotics smugglers do not look like narcotics smugglers. They look like people. And some very unlikely people are crazy enough to try it. Also, some estimable folk try to smuggle gold and gems in from Mexico in quantities greater than the law allows.

The fact is, lady, because of the third seat in my station wagon on there is a sort of secret compartment in the floor of the car when the third seat is folded down. It would hold about $250,000 in uncut heroin or perhaps $500,000 or more in jewels. My inspector never looked in it or inquired about it.

It contained, to my knowledge, three used paper match books, the front page of a Mexico newspaper on the day of the earthquake and, I think, a torn necktie. But, as far as Customs knew, it could have held the items mentioned above in the quantities mentioned and no reasonable citizen could justifiably complain if a man, while doing his job, asked to look into it. And I am perfectly certain he knew that this particular make of car has that particular compartment under its cargo floor.

THEY KNOW all that there is to know, including the golden steering wheel bit and the linen sacks of platinum in the oil reservoir. It is their job to know and estimate strangers — which is why, as bad as it may be in certain areas, we have much less narcotics floating around for sale than do most countries with the possible exception of Great Britain.

Besides all of which, the furious lady was striven with gold: necklace, bracelet, half a dozen thin bracelets about it, three rings and a mesh bag. At least two of the items, I could almost vow, came from Mexico. Maybe they caused the man to be extra precise in his searching of her luggage.

Farewell Dear Old McLean

WASHINGTON — A couple of ex-Euribankers, named Othman, are moving back to town.

I got the first inkling of this nearly a year ago, when my bride drove by the barn on the beaten-up acres at McLean, Va., said she'd spent nine years wearing boots and purchasing bug juice to spray on the apple trees.

She said she did believe she'd like once more to try high-heeled shoes and buy some perfume to spray on herself. This struck me as a reasonable suggestion and suddenly I was in Peggy Bottom, where the Washington gas works used to be, looking at a hole in the ground and signing on the dotted line.

THE HOLE NOW has turned into a cooperative apartment house called The Potomac Plaza and we own a sizeable chunk of the third floor, which we'll soon be calling home. This features big rooms, walls mostly of glass overlooking the Potomac, and a lawn, which somebody else will be cutting.

We expect to enjoy the change; Hilda, in particular, will be pleased to throw away her overalls. If it doesn't work out, we can always move back to the country.

This is because Mrs. O., the business manager of our family, never burns a bridge. She says she'd rather have our acres than mere money in the bank. So we're keeping our place in McLean and expect (Adv.) to rent it. Not to just anybody, you understand.

MY BRIDE says she hopes whoever leases our house will have at least a couple of children to slide down their private hill when it snows, and they'll want to keep a horse or two in the barn with the aluminum roof and the hot and cold running water.

Some of my friends have been aghast at the idea of us leaving the country.

They ask what will I do without these funny stories to write about rural life? They do not realize how closely allied are comedy and tragedy.

Every one of those yarns about rampaging dish washers, balky tractors, and flaming water pumps involved suffering by us. The more amusing the story, usually, the less we were able to laugh.

REGULAR readers may recall that there haven't been many such tales here lately. This is because we finally got all the material Roads must report to Congress on pros and cons on having the U. S. government take over the three billion dollars' worth of outstanding toll-road bonds, and pay off the bondholders.

The roads would continue to be operated as toll roads till the bonds matured, so there would be no added costs to the government. In effect, the U. S. would simply be buying constructed mileage.

But there might be another battle royal in Congress over the issue.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK — Most writers dream of turning out a novel they can sell to Hollywood and become rich.

Dale Van Every, a top authority on America's early frontier, did it the other way. He quit a $75,000-a-year job in Hollywood in 1943 to become a historical novelist.

"I was making $1,500 a week—which made me a working picture writer, not a celebrity," he remarked drily. "My only regret now is that I didn't quit sooner."

Van Every, now 61, has written six novels—the most recent is "The Voyagers"—since he turned his back on Hollywood, where he worked on some 100 pictures after an earlier career as a newsman here and in Washington, D. C. The novels have sold more than two million copies.

ONE OF THE ironies of his success as a novelist is that some critics, aware of his Hollywood background, feel his books have been written with an eye for the film market. Van Every says that actually the exact opposite is true.

"None of my novels has been sold to the movies," he pointed out. "I use fiction only as a kind of sugar-coating for the facts. It is the facts that interest me."

"Everyone knows about the frontier of the later West—the covered wagon, the stage coach, the cowboy and the horse Indian."

"But even the college professors don't know too much about the earlier West, the frontier east of the Mississippi—the West of the stockade, the flatboat, the long rifle, the time when the Indians outnumbered and were stronger than the white settlers and won every battle except the last one."

A methodical craftsman, he writes five drafts of each novel, sometimes spends three or four days checking to be sure he has a detail of frontier life exactly right.

"Newspaper training is the best for anyone learning to write," he said. "It teaches you a respect for facts, and how to find and use them."

AS A RESULT of his interminable research Van Every lards his novels with such interesting facts as why Indians daubed a captive's head with clay before burning him at the stake. It was to preserve the scalp!

Indians rarely violated a white female captive in order to preserve their own purity. Indians used crushed sunflower seeds for hair oil. Indians regarded as delicacies the eyeballs of the buffalo, and frogs cooked whole in cornmeal gruel.

"They also enjoyed muskrat snout, boiled dog's head, and turkey eggs eaten the day before they were due to hatch," added Van Every, who is a steak man himself.

The novelist recently sold his home in Santa Barbara, Calif., and plans to spend a year or two wandering the world with his wife.

"I'm too young to settle down," he said. (Associated Press)

Assignment America

NEW YORK — In a recent column, we described an early retirement for a vital person as "one long extended mass of emptiness," and commended the establishment of a "vacation college" to keep 65's-and-over supplied with an outlet for their restless minds.

The column has brought loud, sometimes jubilant and sometimes wailing, repercussions. Most readers wanted to know how they could find such a stimulating school to enroll in. Others were amazed at the thought that such "utter nonsense" would be contemplated.

"After me working for 58 years," wrote one firm-handed and incredulous New Yorker, "you are trying to suggest I go back and cram for examinations? I've never heard such bunk! Why don't you stop thinking your foolish thoughts for a while and see how good it feels to live?"

Obviously, the man had a point because the most amazed reader of all was Gretta Baker, who founded the unique "vacation college" in Daytona Beach, Fla., about which I wrote. If to err is truly human and to forgive divine, then Gretta Baker is wearing a halo now. And I am afflicted with that humiliated disease of foolish thinking.

IN THE PROCESS of taking notes about the wintertime courses she gives to elderly vacationers in Florida, I confused the young lady's name with that of her oldest (91) pupil—and wound up giving to Mrs. Estelle Youle, that elder extraordinary, the credit for founding Gretta Baker's school.

This, then, seems a likely time to suffer mild apoplexy, apologize and apprise those interested readers that if they want to inquire about how to ease elders' loneliness through learning, the lady to address is Gretta Baker, c/o Princess Isena Little Theatre, Daytona Beach.

As for the incensed retired folk who have suggested politely that there may be a bolt loose in my belfry, it seems obvious they may have a point; and I hereby print some of the reasons which the happy non-working set have to offer for their contention that life begins at sixty-five.

"ALL OF A SUDDEN, you find that you can see how ridiculous your working competitors are. Gives you something to amuse yourself with."

"You can afford to avoid people you've never avoided before."

The nerves unwind like a top that's running down. You don't need pills. . . . "Read those books you never had time for and, with any imagination at all, you can spend many hours in travel. Go hunting big game in Africa, explore the depths of the ocean, all quite safely in a comfortable library chair."

"And the wonderful part of it is—the material for these dreams is inexhaustible." Some men mentioned do-it-yourself hobbies, and learning to collect things. But one correspondent refuted the theory that these are good pursuits.

"You make things and collect things, but after they're yours, the game is over. Not for me. Take each day as it comes, enjoy your family, talk to everybody, know everybody, like everybody. You will never miss the old grind." (International News Service)

Toll Roads Pile Up Travel Expenses

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Superhighway toll turnpikes—hailed only a few years ago as the solution for America's cross-country traffic congestion problems—are recognized today as a not-so-good answer. The reason is a simple problem in arithmetic which few car owners have taken the trouble to figure.

The average charge for driving on the 2,500 miles of U. S. toll roads now in operation is a cent and a half a mile.

If the average car owner gets 15 miles to the gallon out of the family bus, this means he is paying the equivalent of an additional gasoline tax of 2.5 cents a gallon (15 miles at 1.5 cents a mile) just to drive on a toll road.

When it is figured that the average price of super-grade gasoline is now around 32.5 cents a gallon, this 2.5 cents a gallon of added costs brings the gasoline price equivalent to 55 cents a gallon for toll-road driving.

"If more motorists took the trouble to figure this out," says one highway official, "there'd be no clamor for toll roads."

THERE MAY be more safety on toll roads. They may be less fatiguing on drivers. There are no stop lights and there is more speed. But every one of these advantages has to be paid for. The New York-Chicago toll-road charge via the New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana turnpikes is nearly $11. Across New York it is $6.10. Across Massachusetts, $2.45. Kansas, $3.80.

Bureau of Public Roads experts cite these factors as reasons why increases of one or two cents a gallon in state and federal taxes to pay for new free highways is cheaper than driving on toll roads would be. Yet car owners scream protests when gas taxes are raised to pay for new highway construction, though they pay toll-road charges without protest.

The 2,500 miles of U. S. toll roads that have been built are given credit, however, for showing the public the advantages of a super-highway system. Without the toll-road examples, it would probably have been difficult to get Congress to pass the 1956 Highway Act.

IT PROVIDES for building a 41,000-mile interstate network of superhighways connecting all state capitals and most cities of over 500,000. Its cost will be 28 billion dollars to the federal government, 2.8 billion to the states.

The cost of this program in additional gasoline and auto supply taxes on the average motorist is estimated at about $8 a year. This is considered cheaper than what motorists' added costs would be for riding on toll roads.

Further recognition that toll roads do not provide the answer on U. S. highway travel was given when Bureau of Public Roads recently announced that 2,100 of the 2,500 miles of existing toll roads would be made a part of the interstate network. There was no protest. In fact, the 15 states involved were all for it.

New Jersey, West Virginia, Maine and northeastern Pennsylvania turnpike extension were the principal routes excluded. Final decision has not been made on the Fort Worth-Dallas turnpike.

NEW JERSEY turnpike is now carrying near-capacity traffic. It was recognized that a parallel route may have to be built by the time its bonds mature and tolls are lifted.

West Virginia, Maine and northeastern Pennsylvania toll roads have not been profitable enough to pay interest on their bonds. As a matter of fact, some highway experts believe that all the profitable toll-road routes have now been built or are under construction.

Local Jaycees To Honor Kauffman At Program

The first annual David Kauffman Memorial Award to be presented in connection with the September 11 parade of chapters will be given at the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce's picnic today at 6:30 p. m. at the All-Ghan Country Club.

Kenneth J. Williams, program chairman for the local organization, said the Cumberland Chapter has offered to donate the award in memory of the late David Kauffman, well-known Cumberland attorney who was a past president of the Maryland Jaycees.

The annual award will be presented to the state chapter receiving the highest score in the Parade of Chapters competition. This is a new program being undertaken by the state organization and judging will be based on membership; extension; orientation and assimilation; Jaycee action plan for civic service; and attendance at state meetings.

The state award is patterned after the national award in the Parade of States competition.

Also on the agenda tonight will be plans for the September 11 picnic for Jaycees and families at All-Ghan Country Club; discussion of the program to develop speakers in the local club to compete in state contests and plans for the continuation of the project of sponsoring a candidate for the national 10 outstanding young men competition.

Last year the Cumberland chapter sponsored Tommy Mont, football coach at the University of Maryland, and former Cumberland resident, for the award.

Williams also announced that William G. Barger, Allegany County Civil Defense director, will be the guest speaker at tonight's dinner meeting.

The first sunlight picture of the human face was made in 1890; first great photographic portraits were made in 1833 to Parade of States competition.

The annual training camp for the officers of Allegany County Hi-Y Council will be held this week end at Pleasant Valley, according to L. R. Dehn, program secretary of Central YMCA.

Registrations for the two-day session will close on Thursday, and it is noted that 41 persons already have signed to attend the weekend training camp.

Dehn will preside over the camp program which will be highlighted by talks by William Stiller, National YMCA Congress first vice-president, who will speak on "What is the National Hi-Y Congress?"; by Carol Easton and Carole Cook, who will discuss the subject, "Do We Dare Be Christian?"; and by Barbara Mann of Gettysburg College who will talk on "Youth and the Future of the Nation."

Joseph Switzer of Potomac State College will have charge of the various officer orientation sessions which will be held in charge of the various officers.

In charge of the various officer orientation sessions will be: H. H. Folsinger, Beall Hi-Y, chaplain; and Sandra Loar, Beall Hi-Y, secretary; Downey Price, Allegany Hi-Y, treasurer; Conrad Folsinger, Beall Hi-Y, chaplain; and Sandra Loar, Beall Hi-Y, secretary.

A Sunday officers session at 8 a. m. is being designed to give club officers special help with particular jobs for the coming year.

In charge of the various officer orientation sessions will be: H. H. Folsinger, Beall Hi-Y, chaplain; and Sandra Loar, Beall Hi-Y, secretary.

Two Marine Officers Get Late Awards

Two officers of the Sixth Special Infantry Company, Marine Corps Reserve, have been presented with awards for World War II combat action and honorable service in the Marine Corps Reserve.

Captain George F. Bell, executive officer of the local unit, was presented with the Marine Corps Reserve ribbon for honorable service from February, 1946 to February, 1956.

Capt. Bell enlisted as a private in December, 1941, and attained the rank of platoon sergeant. In November, 1945 he was commissioned a second lieutenant. He was released to inactive duty and participated in the reserve program until he was recalled for active duty during the Korean War.

Capt. Bell resides at Walkersville, with his wife and son. He is employed by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company.

Also receiving an award was First Lieutenant James R. McCarter. He received a gold star in lieu of a second Purple Heart award for wounds sustained in combat at Okinawa in April, 1945. Lt. McCarter previously had been wounded at the Saipan and Tinian fighting, while serving as a platoon leader with the Second Armored Amphibious Battalion.

Lt. McCarter also was presented with the Presidential Unit Citation for having served with the Fourth Marine Division, and the American Theatre and Asiatic-Pacific campaigns and World War II Victory medals. Lt. McCarter enlisted in the Marine Corps in January, 1942 and was commissioned in October, 1943. He lives in Hagers-town, with his wife and two children and is employed by the Western Maryland Railway.

Technical Sgt. Carl G. Luiz, gunnery sergeant of the Inspector Staff of the Sixth Special Infantry Company, was re-enlisted yesterday for a period of six years by Captain Richard V. Molesky.

A veteran of 11 years of service, Sgt. Luiz enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1946 at Boston. After completing his boot training at Parris Island, S. C., he was stationed at Newport, R. I., for 14 months and Yokosuka, Japan, for two years.

Sgt. Luiz served in Korea with the 1st Company, Third Battalion, First Marines, and received five battle stars while serving with that unit. He was wounded in action and received the Silver Star for gallantry in action. He also holds three good conduct medals, World War II Victory Medal, Navy Occupation Medal, National Defense Medal, Korean Service Medal, United Nations Medal and two Korean Presidential Unit Citations.

CALF FOR IKE — Nine-year-old Sharon Kay Stauffer is through crying and President Eisenhower can have her prize-winning Holstein calf. Sharon received a $1,000 check from Maryland State Fair officials, who wanted to present it to the President. Sharon finally consented after a 24-hour family conference. But Presidential Press Secretary James Hagerly said later the President wouldn't think of depriving Sharon of her calf. Fair President John H. Zick is going to give Hagerly a written report on the problem. (AP-Photofax)

Largest Magnolia Tree Discovered

PASCAGOULA, Miss.—The United States' largest magnolia tree stands beside a marsh off the Escatawpa River just north of Pascagoula.

Authority for the claim is the American Forestry Association. The tree is 51 feet tall, has a crown spread of more than 90 feet and the trunk is 12 1/2 feet around at its largest point. Paul M. Myers, owner of the tree, counted 9,000 blossoms on it one year.

No one knows exactly how old it is but one 90-year-old Pascagoula resident remembers the tree "being just about like it is now" when she was a little girl.

and prior to being stationed here, he served at Parris Island as a drill instructor.

Sgt. Luiz is married to the former Olive F. Dominey of Dublin, Ga., and resides with his wife and son on Baltimore Pike.

Liquor Sale To More Than Cover Bonus

CHARLESTON, W. Va., (AP)—Liquor Commissioner E. Gaudin Bias announced today that liquor sales definitely will provide more than enough money to finance bonds for the Korean veterans bonus.

Bias said the state would need an estimated $1,800,000 a year for the bonds, and an increase in liquor prices will bring in conservatively $2,300,000 a year.

The commissioner based his estimate on sales last July, ordinarily an off-month for his department, but the first month in which the higher liquor prices were in effect.

Sales were off one-quarter of one per cent, Bias noted, but his department made $27,939 net profit—$191,395 more than the July, 1956, net profit of $536,513.

Club Meets Today

The Cumberland Outdoor Club will meet today at 8 p.m. at its club rooms on Frederick Street.

Drought Affecting City Reservoirs

The city's big water reservoirs are showing the effects of the drought.

The Mayor and Council was told yesterday that Lake Gordon was one foot, five inches below the spillway Sunday and that Lake Koon—used to keep Gordon on an even keel, was down eight feet and six inches.

Lake Gordon was down two feet, six inches and Koon seven feet, six inches last week as Water Commissioner William J. Edwards suggested area residents should be conservative in their use of water until the rains come.

The normal quota was used by Cumberland water customers last week.

In routine action, the Mayor and Council appointed John Marlin as a probationary policeman. The Police Department reported 1,141 arrests during August and the collection of $1,481 in fines, and the Fire Department noted 56 runs with minor damage.

October 24 was proclaimed United Nations Day by Mayor Roy W. Eves.

W. Arnold Gunther, chief bacteriologist for the State Health

Department branch laboratory here, wrote the city to ask consideration for the indigent who get laboratory services in the basement of City Hall, which is being considered as the new location for the city tax office.

Street Commissioner William H. Buchhaltz told Council the matter is already cleared with the Health Department and the proper authorities.

First taxicab was operated in New York City in 1897.

Boat Mishap Brings Acts Of Heroism

Crippled Woman Gives Non-Swimmer Her Life Preserver

CRISFIELD, Md. (U)—Chesler Board of Manokin grappled in Coulbourn Creek for his wife's leg brace. And therein lies a story of heroism and courage.

Board, 48, and his wife, Alma, 44, were returning from a fishing trip in Big Annapessex River Sunday night in their 16-foot outboard boat. Mrs. Board, a victim of polio, wears heavy metal and leather braces on both legs.

Just as they turned into Coulbourn Creek, they saw another small boat motionless on the water.

The other craft suddenly started up and despite the Board's shouts of warning bore down on their boat. It struck the Board's boat in the left stern and tore a big hole in the side.

Robert Gregory, 34, of Newport, Del., riding in the bow of the other boat, was thrown into the Board's boat, which began settling into water.

"Get those braces off fast," Board shouted to his wife. "We're sinking and it looks like we'll have to swim for it."

Mrs. Board got one brace off before their boat sank. Board said he managed to toss a life preserver cushion to his wife.

Then Gregory screamed, "I can't swim. I can't swim."

"It was pretty frightening there in the dark with him screaming," Mrs. Board said. The water was 18 feet deep and the tide was swift. She threw the life preserver to Gregory who was about to go under.

About that time, Mrs. Margaret B. Greigg, who was at the controls of the other boat, started its motor and brought it around to pick up the Boards and Gregory.

Mrs. Board still had one of her heavy leg braces on when the group got to shore. The other was lost when the boat went down.

Accident Kills Area Laborer

James P. Fields, 22, Moorefield laborer, was fatally wounded Monday by a blast from a .22 caliber rifle while hunting for groundhogs near Berryville, Va.

The shooting occurred on a farm near Berryville, operated by Cecil Wolfe.

Wolfe said Fields and a 14-year-old white boy had placed their rifles on a log. The boy reached for the .22 which went off as he picked it up, Wolfe said.

Fields was born December 21, 1934 and was a son of Mrs. Eunice (Cain) Fields, Moorefield, and the late John Fields.

He is survived by his mother and a number of sisters and brothers. The body is at the Thrush Funeral Home in Moorefield where a service will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p. m.

Rev. W. T. Graham and Rev. Earl Brooks, Methodist ministers, will officiate. Interment will be in the Negro cemetery in Moorefield.

Demo Upholds Guard Action

RICHMOND, Va. (U)—Atty. Gen. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. indicated yesterday he approved of the action of Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas who called out National Guardsmen in the Little Rock segregation case.

The Democratic candidate for governor said that as governor, and in a similar situation, he would use whatever resources were at his command to keep law and order.

"It's very apparent that he (Faubus) faces a crucial situation of non-acceptance by the people," Almond said, when newsmen questioned him on the Little Rock developments.

Meanwhile, Democratic campaign headquarters announced the appointment of Del. W. Taylor Murphy of Warsaw as campaign treasurer. Rep. Watkins Abbott, campaign manager, said a finance committee would be announced later.

Prince Georges Group Protests AFB Program

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (U)—Prince Georges County Commissioners went on record today against a Naval Academy air training program to be established at Andrews Air Force Base.

They said many residents feared that inexperienced pilots might crash their planes into the heavily populated area around the base.

Fishing Fair Group Plans 3-Day Event

PRESTON, Md. (U)—The Fishing Fair Assn. will hold its annual three day affair Friday through Sunday with more than 100 trophies and prizes to be doled out.

The awards will go to the follower of Isaac Walton who catches the largest fish, to anglers from nearby states and cities and for the angler coming the farthest distance.

Virginia was named in honor of Queen Elizabeth I, who was called the Virgin Queen of England.

Assessor Cleared Of Favoritism Charge Dismissed

BALTIMORE (U)—The State Tax Commission, ruling that Henry H. Carter's allegations of favoritism were "without foundation," has dismissed him as Montgomery County tax assessor.

"No assessment system is perfect," said the commission. "It was part of Carter's employment to correct any inequities in assessments he found and in no manner was he thwarted by his superiors from doing so."

"Unfounded charges such as he made could have only disruptive influence upon the assessment system."

The ruling yesterday climaxed a case which began last March when the 29-year-old Carter wrote a letter to the Montgomery County manager. He charged that substantial and unwarranted cuts in property assessments were made for several county politicians and a Washington department store branch in Silver Spring.

The supervisor of Montgomery County assessments, Wilton D. Allen, brought charges against Carter July 25.

Allen said an investigation showed Carter's allegations to be without basis in fact. Carter was accused of insubordination, unbecoming conduct and disrupting morale in the assessments department.

Carter had continued to report for work after his suspension, although his superiors gave him no jobs to perform, on a contention that the county had no right to suspend him because about half of his salary is paid by the state.

The State Tax Commission held a hearing on the case Aug. 21-22 resulting in yesterday's ruling signed by Chairman Cornelius P. Mundy and Commissioners John

Wood Logan and Owen E. Hitchins. The commission said: "It finds as a matter of fact that the charges were without foundation, that they were made with reckless disregard for accuracy and that the making of them clearly constitutes improper conduct on the part of Carter."

Health Workers Happy About Polio Case Load

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Health Department has issued an optimistic report on the incidence of polio in Maryland, but at the same time tempered the results by warning that September usually represents the peak polio month.

The department said yesterday only eight cases of paralytic polio have been reported in the state this year, compared to 44 for a similar period last year and 101 in 1955.

A 23-year-old man who had received no Salk vaccine was the only polio fatality reported. Of the other seven cases, four had received partial immunization from one or two injections and three had not been inoculated.

The department said the four children who had received some vaccine had only a "mild disease" and are expected to have only slight disability.

Officials estimated that 80 to 85 per cent of the 963,396 Marylanders under 20 had begun vaccinations as of Sept. 1, with a majority receiving at least two of the recommended three shots.

"The picture in our state, which parallels quite closely the experience of the remainder of the nation," the department said, "looks most encouraging and a high degree of optimism seems justified."

But the department said polio still represents a danger and urged everyone under 20 and pregnant women to have all three inoculations.

Armed Holdup Men Escape

The two armed men who robbed a grocery store yesterday near Winchester escaped road blocks placed on highways in Virginia and West Virginia.

West Virginia State Police at Romney reported an alarm was received shortly after the robbery. One of the two men was reported to be wearing a khaki shirt and carrying a blue steel revolver. His companion remained in a car with the motor running while the armed bandit entered the store and accosted the grocer who was counting receipts at the time. The armed robbers are believed to have escaped with approximately $1,400.

Sgt. Charles Burke of the West Virginia State Police at Berkeley Springs said the two men were Negroes and each was about five feet, nine inches tall. They were traveling in a light blue Dodge car which was either a 1948 or 1950 model and carried District of Columbia license plates.

Woman Injured In 220 Accident

A woman was injured yesterday when her car crashed into the rear of another car which in turn was giving a shove to a disabled auto on U.S. Route 220 about eight miles north of Bedford.

State Police said Alden Fish, 25, of Forest City, Ill., was in the process of trying to get the car of Lloyd Strayer, 35, of Claysburg, Pa., started by giving him a push when a vehicle operated by Bonnie Hengst, 31, of St. Clairsville, Pa., crashed into the rear of Fish's car.

All three cars suffered about $200 damage in the collision. The Hengst woman was taken to Bedford County Memorial Hospital suffering with possible back injuries.

Mixed Emotions At Tree Cutting

MIDDLEBORO, Mass. (AP) — When they cut down the old elm tree on North Main Street there was one person in the sidewalk audience that watched with mixed emotions.

He was 19-year-old John Burns of Pawtucket, R. I., and he wore casts on both arms.

Seems Burns, a tree worker, fell 30 feet to a cement driveway while "lopping" the elm three weeks before. He suffered fractures of the nose and arms, pelvic injuries and lost three teeth in the fall.

Pine Trees May Need Summer Bath

Tree leaves, especially pines, accumulate grime and dirt in certain locations. This slows down photosynthesis, growth lags, weakness may set in.

If summer rains don't do the job, home owners may be obliged to give such trees a thorough washing, says Dr. Philip L. Rudden of the Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories. Spray the trees with a forceful stream of water.

County Schools Open Tomorrow

With the opening of public schools scheduled tomorrow at 9 a. m. for a half-day session, today found the offices in the Allegany County Board of Education building humming with last minute activity.

Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, said with a few exceptions all faculties are filled and classrooms are ready for occupancy.

There will be half-day sessions tomorrow and Friday, and full-day classes start Monday at 9 a. m.

Transfers Announced
Webster today announced some late transfers of teachers within the school system.

Mrs. Margery (Hinkle) Chambers, LaVale, who has been at Columbia Street School, has been assigned as music teacher at Allegany High School replacing Braniff D. Green.

She will be replaced as the second grade teacher at Columbia Street by Mrs. Alice Wonn, Eckhart, a former county teacher who is returning to the profession.

Mrs. Mary Harman goes from Mt. Royal School to Pennsylvania Avenue School. Her successor at Mt. Royal will be Mrs. Catherine (Dudley) Miller, Eckhart.

More Changes Made
The eighth grade English teacher replacing Eugene Shaw, who resigned, at Allegany High School, will be Robert Nelson, a 1957 graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College.

Raymond Chaney goes from his mathematics teaching position at Flintstone High School to social studies on the faculty of new Bruce High School, Westernport. He is being replaced at Flintstone by Michael Cunningham, who taught last year at West Side School.

Transferred from Carver School to West Side School has been Miss Alyce Edwards to a new position, remedial teaching, on the faculty.

Benna To Fort Hill
Mrs. Constance Kuriz, art teacher at Valley High School, has been transferred from Valley High School to a similar position at Fort Hill High School.

Alfred Benna has been assigned from Mt. Savage High School to mathematics and psychology teaching at Fort Hill High School. Webster also announced two last minute vacancies.

Miss Ozella Robertson left her home economics post at Fort Hill High, and Miss Elizabeth Campbell failed to accept her appointment as art teacher at Bruce High.

Officer Held Aboard Ship Phones Home

The local merchant mariner who has been held aboard ship under a temporary embargo in Buenos Aires has been able to call his family here twice from Argentina.

However, Mrs. Ford G. Feltz, Bedford Road, wife of the first assistant engineer aboard the Mormacsurf, said in his last call any reference to the collision of his ship with a ferry last week was censored by the Argentine operator.

His previous call last Thursday was brief, Mrs. Feltz added.

However, officials of the Moore-McCormack Line, owner of the freighter that collided Tuesday with river steamship City of Buenos Aires causing the loss of nearly 100 lives aboard the Argentine vessel, said the temporary embargo has been lifted.

The ship will sail to its home port San Francisco, in about a week after the prow is repaired.

An Argentine judge embargoed the Mormacsurf pending an investigation of the collision. It is understood the probe will continue even though the embargo has been lifted.

The Moore-McCormack spokesman noted that the Mormacsurf's Capt. Kenneth Sommers and three crewmen were freed Saturday from temporary arrest during which they gave depositions to Argentine investigators regarding the crash.

"We can infer from the fact they were released that they are not considered criminally responsible in any way," the spokesman said.

He added that Moore-McCormack has filed a rejoinder to an accusation by the Buenos Aires owners that the Mormacsurf caused the collision.

The Moore-McCormack official said he had received no reports of Mormacsurf crewmen being prevented from discussing the case. He said the crewmen were living aboard ship.

Ford G. Feltz, Bedford Road, Cumberland, is first assistant engineer aboard the American freighter.

Brush Fire Fought In Fishers Woods

The South Cumberland Fire Company was called last night to Fishers Woods to fight a brush fire and was out about an hour before bringing it under control.

The South End company has been plagued with fire calls to the Oldtown Road woods in recent weeks.

Fares Raised On Bus Line To Frostburg

Rates Approved By PSC Went Into Effect On Sunday

For the first time since its organization in 1953, the Peoples Transit Company has been granted an increase in its fares.

Formed by bus drivers of the old Cumberland and Westernport Transit Company, the firm requested the rate boost in July with the Maryland Public Service Commission.

The increase is more in the line of an adjustment, as fares were not affected at the time bus line operations were taken over by the drivers, according to Woodrow W. Damewood, president.

Reduced Rate Provided
In most cases, the increase amounts only to a few cents on any one fare. When the old fare ended in 0 or 5, the new fare was advanced a nickel. These fares with odd cents between 0 and 5 advance to the next nickel.

The rates approved by the Public Service Commission went into effect Sunday morning.

Damewood pointed out that the commutation cards give the passengers a reduced rate. For instance, those persons living in LaVale who formerly rode for 17 cents, are being charged 20 cents.

But a commutation ticket allowing ten rides can be obtained for $1.85 and 18½ cents a ride.

Raised On Rising Costs
The Frostburg-Cumberland trip formerly costing 35 cents has advanced to 40 cents one-way, and 75 cents round trip and Damewood observed that the ten-ride card can be obtained for $3.20, or 32 cents a trip.

The rate increase application with the PSC was based on the rising prices of materials and supplies.

Also, Damewood observed, the company has been providing service in all types of weather while maintaining one of the lowest costs per mile of any bus line in the county.

Since the bus drivers took over their former employers' holdings in 1953, the new company has met all of its obligations regularly and promptly, Damewood declared.

Man Awarded $15,000 By State Group
The State Industrial Accident Commission has awarded an Allegany County man a total of $15,000 for permanent injuries he suffered while at work as a painter.

He is Patrick E. Sheritzer, Roberts Place, who filed the claim against his employer, Norman S. Porter and the Royal Indemnity Company, the insurer. Representing Sheritzer were Attorneys Clarence Lippel and Simon F. Reilly.

The attorneys said Sheritzer was at work in November of 1955 when he accidentally fell from a porch and suffered injuries to his head, back and legs. At that time he was awarded temporary disability payments until September of 1956.

A hearing was held last June 14 on his claim for permanent disability payments. The SIAC held the hearing at the Court House here and R. Duncan Clark, commissioner, made the award.

Sheritzer will receive $33 per week until a total of $15,000 has been paid.

No Increase Planned For School Lunch

Noon Meals Will Be Served Starting Here On Monday

There will be no increase in the price of school lunches this year when cafeterias open in public schools Monday, Mrs. Gladys M. Eaton, supervisor of cafeterias for the Allegany County Board of Education, reported today.

The cost will be 20 cents for children in grades one through three, and 25 cents for students in the upper nine grades.

Each noon hot meal contains one-half of the daily nutritional requirements for children, Mrs. Eaton pointed out.

The schedule of meals for each cafeteria is submitted weekly to Mrs. Eaton who checks or revises each one for nutritional content.

The price level is being held, despite rising costs, Mrs. Eaton pointed out.

For instance, the cost of milk to the Board of Education went up one-quarter cent in January and another one-quarter cent for a half pint during the summer.

The federal government's milk subsidy program for schools contributes three cents to each half-pint.

That makes the cost of an extra half pint with a regular meal three cents additional.

Mrs. Eaton said the rise in meat prices has been considerable in the past year, and added that there is no meat from federal surplus sources in the offering.

She said she has been informed that the nation's turkey crop is very large this year, and there may be some available through surplus government sources later in the year.

The cafeteria department has been notified by the government that butter, cheese, sour cherries, dried milk, dried eggs and peas beans will be available in surplus commodities.

MESSAGE CENTER WORK—All operations of Headquarters Company and Company C, First Battalion, 115th Special Infantry of the Maryland National Guard, were handled through the message center during the recent encampment at Indiantown Gap, Pa., Military Reservation. Specialist 2/c Richard F. Hawes is shown answering the telephone in the message center while Specialist 3/c Clark W. Lemaster prepares to secure the office. Both men are members of Headquarters Company. The unit returned Saturday.

Probe Ends In Crash Of Engine, Auto

Western Maryland Railway and State police have completed their investigation into the accident at McCoolle over the weekend, when a car operated by a 77-year-old man was demolished by a Diesel engine.

Jacob Kenison Armentrout, of near McCoolle, escaped serious injury when the train struck his 1949 model sedan.

Lt. Bernard Beakly, officer in charge of railway police on the Western Division, said Armentrout has been in Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, since Saturday night for treatment of lacerations of the right knee, head, nose and back.

Lt. Beakly said Engine 195 with H. E. Campbell as engineer and E. L. Crawford as conductor hit the front end of the car, spun it around, and hit the side of it. As it was twirled around, Armentrout was thrown out.

Had he remained in the auto, Armentrout would have been either seriously injured or killed, Lt. Beakly said.

The mishap occurred on a crossing leading to Armentrout's farm one mile west of McCoolle. Lt. Beakly was assisted in the investigation by Tte. Milton G. Hart of the State Police, and Patrolman Harry Detrick of the Western Division police force.

Gloucester Woman Okays Welsh Ponies

Over 14,000 Attend State Fair For Ladies Day Event

TIMONIUM, Md. (AP)—Mrs. Nell Pennell of Gloucester, England, surveyed the Welsh ponies at the Maryland State Fair and gave her verdict: Not a bad pony in the show.

"In fact," she said, "that broad mare class was the very best that I shall ever hope to see."

Mrs. Pennell is here — it's her first visit to America — by invitation of the Maryland Pony Breeders Inc. Besides the Welsh of yesterday, she also will judge Shetland and Cross Bred ponies.

Selected by Mrs. Pennell as the grand champion Welsh pony was the filly, Princess Anne, owned by Louise Este Hollyday, of Sparks. The reserve championship went to a stallion, Farney Gremelin, shown by Mrs. Joan Mackay-Smith of White Post, Va.

The grand champion received the St. David's Challenge Trophy, new this year at the fair.

Mrs. Pennell said she used "the type of pony still found in Wales" as her criterion, and expressed surprise at how well Welsh ponies on American soil had "kept their type."

Yesterday was Ladies Day at the fair and officials reported an official attendance of 14,491 at the day's end.

It also was Grange Day and Joseph Hoopes of Forest Hill, master of the Maryland State Grange, was an honored guest. Hoopes was presented with a prize-winning cake baked by Mrs. Harriet Stockinger of Hagerstown.

The first prize-winning "Governor's Cake" will be presented to Gov. McKeldin tomorrow, as part of Governor's Day at the Timonium Fairgrounds. Baked by Mrs. C. N. Pearce of Hereford, Baltimore County, it is a two-tiered yellow cake with white icing decorated with black-eyed susans.

Bay Lab Makes Money For State Watermen

By MARTY SUTPHIN

SOLOMONS, Md. (AP)—Scientists have been at work on this Patuxent River island for 25 years to put more money in the pockets of Maryland watermen.

The Chesapeake Biological Laboratory here is dedicated to lofty aims but it is much concerned with the practical problem of increasing seafood production in the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries.

At the same time, these conservation-minded scientists are striving to insure that future generations will share in the rich natural resources of the bay.

The lab, which will celebrate its 25th anniversary with an open house this weekend, was dedicated July 19, 1932.

The oldest state-supported marine biological lab in continuous use, it actually had its beginning some 35 years ago when Dr. R.V. Truitt, retired director of the Department of Research and Education, began a movement to construct a fisheries research institution on Maryland tidewater.

The Chesapeake Biological Laboratory was established by the Maryland Legislature in 1929 to conduct research in basic marine biology and on problems of fisheries management. It received its permanent quarters here three years later.

The main building houses administrative offices, a technical library, an exhibit room and offices and laboratory space for the research staff. Behind it is a dormitory to house visiting investigators and students.

Money has been appropriated for a third building which will have running salt water, a chemistry lab, a constant temperature room and aquaria for holding experimental animals.

The oyster is the most valuable product of Maryland's fisheries, and research on the bivalve dominates the labwork here.

Dr. L. Eugene Cronin, who has directed the laboratory's work since Dr. Truitt's retirement in 1954, says that science knows more about the oyster now than any other invertebrate animal. Present knowledge is available to expand production considerably if sufficient funds were available, he says.

This has been one of the major aims of the laboratory since its creation. Maryland's oyster production, which totalled 15 million bushels in 1885, dropped below 2 million in the 1930s before the state inaugurated its conservation program. It presently is ranging between 2 and 3 million bushels per year.

Dr. Cronin and associates at the laboratory here feel that the Chesapeake Bay can be brought back to major production levels through scientific planting and cultivation. But they are agreed that it will take a lot of time and money.

About one-third of the 45 research projects currently being carried on by biologists here are concerned with oysters. The other studies deal mostly with crabs, clams and fish.

One of the lab studies that resulted in the saving of many thousands of dollars was an investigation of high mortalities of peeler crabs in shedding floats. Improved practices recommended by biologists resulted in 80 per cent reduction in crab mortalities.

The lab has a full-time staff of 25 persons, including 15 scientists. In addition, about 15 students serve as research aides in the summer. A 2-man sub-station on Chincoteague Island is mostly concerned with developing methods of protecting oysters from screw borers, their greatest enemy, and improving methods for production of seed oysters.

The Solomons biologists spend most of their time in the field. They use a fleet of five boats and may even employ an airplane on certain projects.

Discoveries made or conclusions drawn are published and interchanged with other labs in other states. Some studies are conducted as cooperative efforts with the Virginia Fisheries Laboratory.

The Solomons laboratory, located at the southern tip of Calvert County, will be open for visitors between 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. tomorrow, Sunday and Monday.

No formal program is planned, but the entire plant will be open for inspection and the scientists will be in their labs to explain projects they are working on.

Skin divers will be in full equipment on a pier which runs from the lab out into Patuxent River, where it empties into the bay.

The divers will explain their equipment and its uses in research. Also, along the pier will be the lab boats, including a commercial hydraulic clam dredge vessel used in the lab research.

In the main building will be aquaria showing live tidewater animals in various stages of their development, mounted exhibits of Maryland animals — including some unusual fish — and electrically operated quizzes to test the visitors' knowledge of these, fish and bay animals.

Between the two buildings will

Coney Police Resign Posts

LONACONING — A community pond at the Dan's Mountain recreation area is being planned by the Maryland Department of Forests and Parks.

The Mayor and Council of Lonaconing have received notification from the Game and Inland Fish Commission that the pond will be started in the near future.

Construction of the pond, according to the notification, was held up due to a land acquisition problem.

During a meeting of town officials last night it was announced that a new garbage disposal site will be located on Jackson Mountain where the town has acquired about two acres of land.

It should be ready for use within two or three weeks. The town is undecided whether or not to take over the collection duties which up until now have been done by an independent concern.

Two of the town's three police officers have resigned and accepted positions in private industry. Street Commissioner Douglas Waddell proposed that the force consist of two policemen who would get an increase in salary as an incentive to fill the positions.

The initial wage is $225 a month with an increase of five dollars the second year plus five more the third year with a top salary of $210.

Mayor Winthorn F. Garlitz proposed a change in the ordinance which governs the police department. Up until now a person has had to be a resident of the community for at least five years.

However, when a motion was made and seconded last night the ordinance was amended to a three-year residency and persons of Election Districts 10 and 15, which extend outside the town limits, may not apply for the position of police officer. Clerk Robert Thomas will accept applications until September 23.

Those persons applying for the job are covered with workmen's compensation as well as Social Security benefits.

After the first year of service a policeman is eligible for seven days of vacation and up to 15 days sick leave. Should a policeman get injured on duty the Mayor and Council will authorize supplementary payments not to exceed 52 weeks.

In other business the town officials voted a donation of $30 to the Community Decorating Fund. The money is used to decorate the community during the Christmas holidays.

Piedmont Council Orders Tri-Towns Unit Fire Hose

PIEDMONT—Five hundred feet of two-and-a-half-inch fire hose, brazen on double jacket, was ordered Monday evening by Mayor Rodney Baker and Council for Tri-Towns Fire Company 1.

The order was placed with Bernard G. Yeager and Ernest Bruce of the Fire Extinguisher Service for a total of $750, less 10 per cent if paid in 30 days at $675. The hose will be billed as of October 5, Vernon Hamilton, fire chief, recommended the purchase.

The representatives also showed copies of raincoats and gave prices on rubber boots.

Mrs. Deana Nogle asked permission for Piedmont Lodge 925, Women of the Moose, to hold a fair on Lyons Street in the vicinity of the fire house, September 18-21. Money realized will be sent to children at Mooseheart and Moosehaven at Christmas time. Permission was granted.

A police officer will direct traffic at the Child's Avenue crossing of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad when the children go home for lunch from school.

A permit was granted Piedmont Company 10, Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias, to cover with shingles the front of their armory on Water Street, and lay a concrete pavement in front of the building. Michael Francis was given a permit to cover a sidewalk with black top in front of his property at 12-14 Lyons Street.

It was reported that Harry Coddington complained of high weeds on Pearl Street, causing him to run into a ditch and costing him $7 to get his car pulled out.

Councilman Garland Cheshire reported that the clutch on the truck of Tri-Towns Fire Company 1 has burned. Parts have been ordered from the Spicer Manufacturing Company of Cleveland. James Bissell, councilman, stated he has talked with Wilbur Cather, local manager of the Potomac Light and Power Company, about better light for the town's parking lot on Lyons Street. Cather will meet with Mayor and Council at their next meeting to discuss the type of lighting needed to improve the parking lot.

Official name of the Republic of Ireland is Poblacht na Eireann in Gaelic.

'Dodgers Is Dead,' Trail Braves By Ten Games

Spahn Sets Mark With Shutout Win Over Bruins

By FRED DeLUCA

NEW YORK—(INS)—The Dodgers are dead!

Just as Charley Dressen once intoned the fatal words for the New York Giants, so are they fitting today for the defending National League champs.

The die was cast Sunday when Brooklyn sold Sal Maglie, one of the finest money players in the game, to the New York Yankees.

The Brooks have proved they are out of the running since then by losing four in a row to trail league-leading Milwaukee by ten games.

The once-proud Dodgers, who captured six pennants in the last decade, now are in danger of falling into fourth place or even the second division.

Last night was a particularly ghastly example of how far the Dodgers have fallen.

Anderson Ties Score

The Brooks had managed to get only three hits but had scored twice and were leading Philadelphia, 2 to 0, as the ninth inning opened.

Then Ed Bouchee doubled and with two out, Harry Anderson touched Don Drysdale for his 14th homer to tie the score.

The blow would not have deadlocked the game except that Charley Neal, who doubled in the second Brook run and came home himself on a wild throw, had his run erased when the Phils pointed out that he had neglected to touch third base.

Reliever Dick Farrell of the Phils and Drysdale battled through to the 12th, when ex-Dodger Chico Fernandez tripled and scored on Willie Jones' sacrifice fly.

About the only comfort for the Dodgers was that they once again passed the million mark in attendance.

Warren Spahn set a modern league record for southpaws when he pitched his 41st shutout in hurling Milwaukee to an 8-to-0 win over the Chicago Cubs. Second-place St. Louis scored eight times in the first two innings and coasted to a 14-to-4 rout of Cincinnati. The Giants beat Pittsburgh, 6 to 5, in 12 innings.

Yanks Increase Lead

There were only two day games in the American League but they were enough to increase New York's lead to 5½ games. The Yankees beat Baltimore, 2 to 0, as Maglie saved Tom Sturdivant's shutout and the game in the ninth. Detroit tied up Chicago in the ninth and then won, 3 to 2, in the 11th on Al Kaline's 21st homer.

Bill Skowron homered and singled to drive in the Yankee runs but when George Kell opened the ninth with a single, Maglie replaced Sturdivant. The ex-Dodger gave up a single of the first batter and then retired the next three on a force play, a pop up and a fly.

Larry Doby and Walt Dropo homered for the two Go-Sox runs but Ray Boone singled in the tying run in the ninth and Kaline's homer off Gerry Staley gave the win to Billy Hoell. Kaline singled home the first Tiger run.

Aaron Clouts 39th

In winning his 18th game, Spahn gave up six hits but he was locked in a scoreless duel with Dick Littlefield until the Braves rammed across five runs in the seventh. Hank Aaron closed out the scoring by belting his 39th homer in the eighth with two on.

St. Louis stayed 8½ games behind Milwaukee. Del Ennis and Hal Smith drove in a total of ten runs with Wilmer Mizell picking up the easy win and Joe Nuxhall taking the loss. Pete Whisenant and Smokey Burgess homered for the Redlegs.

The sixth-place Giants moved to within three games of the Redlegs by beating the Pirates. The Giants had to battle from behind on two-run homers by Willie Mays and Danny O'Connell and finally tied it in the ninth on Valmy Thomas' roundtripper.

The run in the 12th, which gave the win to Stu Miller and the loss to Bob Smith, came on two walks, a fielder's choice and Ray Jablonski's sacrifice fly.

Atthey Suffers Injury To Knee

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—A decision is expected this weekend on the availability of this season's Maryland halfback Jack Atthey.

The 1957 co-captain underwent surgery after an injury to his knee last season. He has been practicing, but is barred from contact work.

The rest of the team participated in its first scrimmage yesterday, spending 45 minutes on passing and punting under game conditions.

First string guard Ron Atthey, of Cumberland, and reserve guard Bob Suchy were early entries on this season's injury list with injured knees. Atthey was expected to be out a week to 10 days.

Mrs. Bowie Wins Two-Club Event

A low gross score of 77 and 23 pulls for 18 holes enabled Mrs. Gordon Bowie to finish on top in the invitation golf tournament staged yesterday at the Cumberland Country Club in which women of the Maplehurst and local clubs participated.

Mrs. Bowie had 14 one-pull greens.

Mrs. Robert Davis of the CCC had low net score of 117-49-58. Janet Palm had low gross of 108 for Maplehurst and Mrs. Ruth Rephan chalked up low net of 109-48-61.

Mrs. Henry Johnson and Mrs. Fuller B. Whitworth won prizes for having the lowest number of pulls—29 each. Mrs. Bowie was not eligible for this award since she had copped the low gross prize.

There were 59 entries—33 from Maplehurst and 26 of the host organization.

Spahn Nears 20-Game Tie With Grove

By International News Service
Warren Spahn not only is pitching the Milwaukee Braves to a pennant, he also is rewriting the record books and virtually guaranteeing himself a future spot in baseball's Hall of Fame.

In blanking the Chicago Cubs, 8 to 0, yesterday, the stylish southpaw chalked up the 41st shutout of his career and his 18th win of the season.

The 41 whitewashes are a new modern National League record for southpaws. His 18 wins put him within easy reach of another 20-game season, which would be his eighth.

Only immortal Christy Mathewson and Grover Cleveland Alexander have won 20 games more than eight times in the history of the league. And only one southpaw, Lefty Grove, has ever won 20 games eight times.

The 36-year-old hurler has won 221 games in his big league career, not including a World Series game he won for the Boston Braves in 1918.

The 6-foot, 175-pounder was born in Buffalo, N. Y., but lives now on his cattle ranch in Hartshorne, Okla., with his wife and their son, Greg.

Spahn was the league strikeout king for four straight years, 1919 to 1922. He doesn't have his old-time fastball, but what he lacks in speed he more than makes up for with know-how and determination.

Cincinnati Sues Ezzard Charles

CINCINNATI, O. — (INS)—The City of Cincinnati has sued former heavyweight boxing champion Ezzard Charles, charging he failed to pay one per cent city income tax on earnings of more than $55,000 in 1954 and 1955.

The suit, filed yesterday in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court, claims Charles, 36, and now retired, owes $1,279 in taxes and penalties. It alleged that the boxer did not pay income taxes of $35,393 between April 1 and Oct. 31 in 1954 and $20,088 from March to November in 1955.

During that time Charles fought and lost two heavyweight title bouts to former champion Rocky Marciano, now also retired from the ring.

Charles is now a bailiff in Hamilton County Juvenile Court in Cincinnati.

You Are There

The great ring battle between John L. Sullivan and James J. Corbett will be reenacted Sunday from 6:30 to 7 p. m. over the CBS television network in a program titled "The Birth of Modern Boxing."

The dramatic battle between "Mighty John L." and the bare-knuckle fighters, and the clever young "Gentleman Jim," will be reported in terms of an on-the-spot newscast by Walter Cronkite and other CBS newscasters over "You Are There," Peabody Award-winning series.

Cronkite and his crew of news men bring the dramatic action directly from ringside at the New Orleans Olympic Club, from the champion's and challenger's dressing rooms and from the atrial boarding house where an ex-chorine, once a friend of Sullivan's, reminisces about the blustering world champion.

The fight between Sullivan—never defeated in more than 200 fights—and the daring young challenger, marked a turning point in the history of boxing.

Sports Keg Residue

A couple of police commissioners, Bill Keegan of Cumberland and Lefty Grove of Lonaconing, has been invited to attend a dinner honoring Pittsburgh Mayor David L. Lawrence as "Sportsman of the Year."

The invitations were extended by Judge Samuel A. Weiss of Pittsburgh's Court of Common Pleas. The testimonial is scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 19, at Webster Hall.

The football game Sunday in Baltimore between the Colts and Washington Redskins will be televised over 175 stations of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

These two "neighborhood" rivals make a habit out of providing thrills for pro grid fans. If you'll recall last December 23, the Colts tossed out the Redskins, 19-17, when Jim Mutscheller grabbed off a deflected pass from John Unitas to turn an apparent defeat into a remarkable victory.

That one was also staged before a nationwide TV audience. Labor Day bellows at Charles Town's race meeting wagered a total of $449,827, lifting the average for 36 days to $302,943.

The meet ends Saturday and Charley McKee of Alexandria, Ind. holds a long lead in the jockey race with 69 winners, 55 seconds and 41 thirds.

F. D. Rivera is second with 39 winners.

According to an Associated Press dispatch, Ted Williams will still be on the sidelines with a virus infection when the Boston Red Sox open a series with the Yankees tonight in New York.

Bill Skowron, who batted in both of the Yanks runs in their 2-0 victory over the Orioles yesterday, bats and throws right, eats right, thinks right, but when he was a football star at Purdue he punted with his left foot.

Casey Shows Concern Over Mantle Injury

By GEORGE BOWEN
BALTIMORE (AP) — Manager Casey Stengel's biggest worry about whether the New York Yankees can hold their 5½-game lead in the American League seems to be injuries to his team.

"If that fella is all right, well, if he isn't we're in a bad plight," Stengel said. "The fella" he pointed to in the batting practice cage was Mickey Mantle.

Doesn't Fear Sox
Mantle isn't "all right" and it's showing in the Yankee performance. The great hitting outfielder has been suffering with aching shins since a series in Kansas City Aug. 20-22. The Yankees have lost seven of their last 13 games although giving no ground to the Chicago White Sox.

Stengel has no fear of the Sox head to head. Even with Mantle ailing, the Yanks beat them three straight games about a week ago. "They beat me one series by plugging the ball around the infield," he said. "They have nothing much except speed. It seems every time you look up they have a man going from first to third. They beat us one game this season by just hitting the ball in front of the plate."

Yanks Have Speed, Too
Stengel figures he has some speed too. "If I can play Tony Kubek in left, Mantle in center and Hank Bauer in right, we're pretty fast too, aren't we?"

Bauer is another of the injured Yankee players who has Stengel frowning. He has a fractured thumb and may be out for another week. But the big worry is Mantle. The switch-hitting ace still is hobbling like an old man with arthritis.

His batting average dropped seven points, from .377 to .370, in the three game series with the Baltimore Orioles ending yesterday. He got one hit in 15 times at bat.

Equally important to the Yankee scheme is Mantle's inability to show any speed covering the outfield. Fly balls which he normally would catch with ease are dropping in for him simply because he can't reach them. One such went for a double over his head against the Orioles.

UMPIRE
By BEANS REARDON
Written for NEA Service
QUESTION: With runners on first and second and one out, the ball is hit in the air in fair territory between home and third and the umpire calls it an infield fly and the batter out. But the ball comes down and hops into foul territory untouched. Is this a foul ball or is the batter already out? And what happens if the fly goes a little past third, drops in fair ground, then rolls foul. — Jack Robinson.

Answer: The umpire always calls out "infield fly, if fair!" So the first fly becomes a foul ball and only a strike on the batter. The second fly is a fair ball and the batter is out.

Q. A line drive strikes the leg of the first base umpire on the foul line back of the bag. It kicks fair, but it would have been foul. Is the ball dead or what? — Bobby Rothbard.

A. It is a fair ball because it struck the umpire in fair territory and it remains in play.

TURNED TIGERS
DETROIT — (NEA) — Of the first 110 home runs given up by the Detroit Tigers this year, the Kansas City Athletics hit 27, five by Lou Skizas.

Only six American League batters have had a season mark of 400 or above. Only two National Leaguers have turned the trick.

Elks Win A 'Must' Today To Keep Title Hopes Alive

By J. SUTER KEGG
Evening Times Sports Editor
On the shoulders of Dick Klavuhn will probably rest the responsibility of getting the BPO Elks even with Cumberland Outdoor Club in the playoff finals of the Rocking Chair Softball League. The Outdoorersmen, pennant winners and favorites to add the playoff crown, opened the best-of-five title series yesterday evening at Stitzer Field by posting a 4-1 victory behind the five-hit hurling of Glenn Kauffman.

The teams clash again today on the same field, beginning at 8 p. m., and Elks manager "Tag" Neel feels this is the one his players must win if they are to remain in contention. Klavuhn, who has won 15 games while dropping only five, will probably be opposed by Floyd (Pete) Elliott, who has an 11-0 record for Outdoor Club this season.

Neel came up with a surprise starter yesterday in Bill Underdonk and Bill responded before a turnout of 300 fans by dueling Kauffman in a thriller until the last of the sixth when the rampaging Outdoorersmen snapped a 1-1 tie with a three-run rally. Underdonk gave up only five hits in the first five frames, but Cecil Grimes' club put together four more safeties in the sixth to nail down the decision.

Defensive Play Outstanding
Outdoor Club backed up Kauffman's five-single pitching with errorless ball and several sparkling defensive plays. Shortstop Jim Eckard contributed the first when he made a big-league pickup of Jim Gaffney's Baltimore chop bid for a base knock in the second and threw out the big guy at first. In the fifth, the Elks' Bob Keyser belted a drive to right-center that was ticketed for extra bases, but "Bub" Porter, after a hard run, hauled in the smash with a high-gloved-hand stab.

Each team tallied in the second. Underdonk singled to center following Eckard's great play on Gaffney, moved up when "Pooch" Orndorff walked and got to third when Outdoor missed a double play on Keyser's grounder to Eckard which forced Orndorff. Keyser then made a deliberate advance to second, hoping to draw a throw and the delayed maneuver wound up in a double steal, Underdonk scoring.

Underdonk retired the first two batters in the lower half of the second but "Butch" Johnson propped a high fly to left that went for a homer. Bill Raupach gave all indications of an easy catch by the manner in which he moved into position but the ball went over his head. It was Johnson's second homer of the playoffs, "Butch" also belting one against VFW in the semi-finals.

Durbin Starts Rally
Kauffman and Underdonk then proceeded to hook up in three straight innings of scoreless ball. In fact, the Outdoor Club fast-batter retired eight straight batters, starting with the final out in the third and ending when Lou

Indians Detect Silver Lining In Dark Cloud

By The Associated Press
If early season workouts mean anything at all, the football outlook at William & Mary must be considered optimistic.

The Indians failed to win in 10 starts last season — there was one tie — but new Coach Miller already has found a silver lining to the dark cloud of pessimism that has prevailed at Williamsburg since last fall.

Drewer sent the Indians through a 20-minute scrimmage and was rewarded by several long runs by halfbacks Charlie Sidwell, Jack (Go Go) Yohe and Hub Hoss.

Hustle And Spirit
Afterward, Drewer said "We had lots of hustle and spirit, and the timing was exceptionally good for this early in the season."

The Citadel's Bulldogs had two rough sessions yesterday and Coach Eddie Teague promised more for today. He said it was "really a rough workout and it left most of the boys dragging their feet."

Furnum went through a long session of "blasting through" on quick opening play drills as backfield Coach Bill Crutchfield expressed concern at the general speed of his charges.

Conditioning, fundamentals and offense were stressed by Coach Bill Dole at Davidson.

Score Lacks Confidence But Hopes To Pitch Soon

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Southpaw Herb Score says he will pitch again "as soon as I think my depth perception is good enough—this month, I hope."

It will be four months on Saturday since the Cleveland Indians' star was felled by a liner off the bat of Gil McDougald in a night game here with the New York Yankees. The ball hit him flush in the right eye and caused the retina to swell.

"I feel all right, and I can see pretty well," Score said last night. "In fact, I can see a lot better than I could a few months ago."

Score returned to workouts July 18 after a month at his Lake Worth, Fla., home. About the time he returned his doctor said he hoped the fireballing left-hander would be ready to pitch again in "four to six weeks."

On the basis of more than six weeks of workouts, Score says: "I'd simply rather not pitch until I have more confidence in my judgment."

"Playing catch is different," he explained. "I can follow the ball all of the way." But, he added, "it seems as though I misjudge a batted ball because I don't have that quick coordination between my eyesight and reflexes."

Score said he believes this problem will be solved. His eye specialist has told him it is a temporary condition.

Bernstein Advances In County Tourney

Maurice Bernstein advanced to the third round in the County Tennis Tournament by defeating Walter Thomas, 6-2, 6-1. He'll meet Norm Sell in the third round.

Dr. Robert Novaks and Charles Sager defeated Olly Rephaan and Gene Sager, 6-0, 6-2, in a match between Frostburg doubles teams.

In women's division matches, Dot Heavner defeated Sara Murphy, 6-4, 6-1. Mrs. Richard Winer won over Eleanor Murphy, 6-1, 6-1, and Sandra Roeder eliminated Sally Rumber, 6-3, 6-1.

Today's hand as played by John Dillo of Chicago is an illustration of a complicated barrier play.

John read West's opening lead of the six of spades as a fourth best and East had to hold exactly one higher card. The card surely was not the eight as that would leave West with king-queen-ten (an automatic king lead). It might be the ten but there was a much better chance that it would be the king or queen.

If the opening lead was from a four-card suit, South's defense could only take three spade tricks plus a possible club trick. John saw that he would have to take the club finesse into the dangerous West hand and that the only value of the hold-up would be if East held the ten of spades. Hence John played the ace right away and the barrier play succeeded.

The club finesse lost to West's king and West returned a low spade. East was in with the queen but had no way to get West in and John romped with four no-trump.

NEW YORK — (INS) — A committee of the American Bankers Association said today a nationwide tendency has developed to lengthen maturities on loans in the home improvement field. The ABA Instalment Credit Commission warned against relaxation of terms in farm equipment financing, loans on mobile homes and advised against long-term financing of any class of instalment credit.

The commission also noted collections were "a trifle more difficult" and delinquency ratios somewhat higher as of this summer in the instalment credit area.

It said that weather conditions in some rye-producing states have resulted in a larger than normal proportion of lower grade rye. The department added that it will promote more orderly marketing in many areas.

7th Season — Cumberland Branch

NEW YORK — Consolidated earnings of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company for the third quarter of the fiscal year, ended July 31, amounted to $3,528,000, or 66 cents per share, as compared with $3,872,000, or 75 cents per share, for the same period last year, David L. Luke, president, reported yesterday.

The company's net for the first nine months of the year was 72 per cent of earnings for the same period last year, amounting to $9,372,000, or $1.81 per share, as compared with $13,001,000, or $2.54 per share, in 1956.

Luke noted that this year's results have been affected by the strike at the company's Mechanicville, N.Y., mill, as well as by the cost-price squeeze resulting in part from the reduced demand for products of the industry.

Sales of $47,419,000 for the third quarter of the fiscal year brought sales for the nine-month period to $140,405,000.

He pointed out that third quarter sales were in excess of those for the same period during the previous year and that sales for the nine-month period were only 1 1/2 per cent below those of the same period last year.

People who can easily pay any price say:

"Pay more... what for? Ford's the buy!"

Why? Because this 1957 Ford gives you the advanced features, the solid ride, the effortless handling that you once expected to find only in expensive cars. And when it comes to looks, where in all the world can you find fresher styling than in the sculptured-in-steel lines of this new Ford?

Ford's superiority is evident in many places. In the vital rear axle, the pinion gear that turns the rear wheels is straddle-mounted... supported between two anti-friction bearings instead of being "overhung" from a single bearing. This makes operation quieter, smoother and longer-lasting. It's a feature that Ford shares with only one other car maker—Rolls Royce.

Or consider Ford's famous V-8 engine. No other manufacturer in the industry today electronically balances every V-8 engine, while operating under its own power, the way that Ford does. This means you get a smoother-running engine—the finest V-8 in Ford's 25 years of V-8 leadership.

These are only a few of the important hidden values that are yours in the new kind of Ford. But they indicate why so many people who can pay almost any price for a car—people who have driven expensive cars for years—are buying Ford today. Action Test this great-performing car at your Ford Dealer's just once and you too, will ask, "Pay more... what for?"

YOU CAN SPEND HUNDREDS MORE... BUT YOU CAN'T BUY BETTER THAN THE NEW KIND OF FORD
